JM Invitational: 1st
District: 2nd
Regional: 5th

The ultimate success: effecting a "take down" and trapping your opponent in a pin. How do JM grapplers pursue this goal?...with endurance, mind strategy, eye contact, assorted muscle powered body locks, and not giving up until the struggle ends with positive red-n-black results.

JM's team for 1974 was young, only three seniors were members of the line-up. Inexperience reigned as the season began, but momentum increased with practice and hard muscle building work until progress became undisputedly apparent. State competition results showed the might of JM veterans Jeff Roehrick and Steve Burt.

Weight loss, weight gain, fatigue, pressure, anxiety, psyching up, nursing defeat, and supporting the team are all part of being a JM grappler.
