When most wrestlers are asked what their goals for the season are, every single wrestler shares one common goal: To go to the state wrestling tournament. "Ever since I started wrestling, I always dreamed about going to state," said varsity captain Luke Robison. The state wrestling tournament consists of teams and individuals from all over the state who are the the top two best groups from their respected section. The state tournament is hosted at the Xcel Energy Center in Minneapolis, MN each year and it is every wrestler's dream to reach this holy site that is coveted by many. Wrestlers who have competed in the state tournament have said that it is an experience of a life time. "I've gone to state three times now and it is by far the most heart pounding and most memorable experience in my life" said varsity captain Garrett Stieger. The road to state however is filled with many twists and turns and many wrestlers never make it to their destination. That is why only the best of the best of wrestlers in the state have gone and will go to the state tournament. "I am going to state. You have to say it before you can get there, otherwise you'll doubt yourself along the way" said first time state entrant Pen

Maclin. And that is why wrestlers all over the state wrestle hard, so that they may reach the Xcel Energy
